FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

70th Annual Home, Garden and Remodeling Show

All things “Home Sweet Home” found under one roof

Louisville, Kentucky (January 30th, 2018) – The Home, Garden & Remodeling Show presented by Champion Windows and powered by LG&E is celebrating 70 consecutive years as the largest, longest-running and locally produced Home Show in the region. From March 2 – 4 at the Kentucky Exposition Center, tens of thousands of guests will be welcomed to view and get inspired by the latest and greatest in home and garden related products and services. Nearly 7 acres and over 350 booths will transform the exhibit hall with beautifully built displays and custom demos, as well as trusted industry professionals on site to answer questions.

Included in admission, guests can also choose from a variety of shows and seminars held on the featured stages around the Show. The Cooking Stage is back by popular demand and will have a great variety of cuisines and topics held by some of the area’s most popular chefs. Guests will have the opportunity to try something new, spice up traditional recipes or embrace “farm-to-table” by incorporating things grown in their very own gardens. Watching popular food programs is a great place to get inspired, but the Cooking Stage gives viewers the opportunity to smell the aromas in real-time and many offer a taste of the ‘finished product’ to the audience.

The Home & Garden Stage has a new twist this year by expanding seminars to include “home” related seminars, as well as continuing the popular and educational “garden” related topics in the series. Attendees will walk away inspired and with the confidence to incorporate many of the themes and ideas in their own home.

Art Explosion is this year’s must-see featured entertainment. The Entertainment Stage will hold daily shows led by world-famous, speed-art painter, Sophia Mitchell. Enjoy watching a masterpiece come to life in a fun, high-energy style, all while choreographed to music. This style of entertainment has never been showcased at the Home, Garden and Remodeling Show and is sure to “Wow!”

By bringing that honey-do list and an open mind, attendees are sure to go home with something from the Show!

Admission for the Home, Garden and Remodeling Show is $10 for adults, $9 for senior citizens, children 15 and under and military members with an ID are free.
